ROULENO

RULES OF PLAY

Rouleno is a game where six pool balls, numbered one through six, are randomly mixed and placed in six numbered slots. Players wager on how many balls end up in the correct spot, which is the spot corresponding to the ball number.

To begin, the players place bets only on the colored dots that match their seat location. The dealer places the six pool balls numbered one through six in the ball mixer. After mixing the balls, the dealer removes the plug from the ball mixer, and the balls roll out one at a time. The first ball that rolls out is placed in the first spot. The second ball is placed in the second spot. The dealer continues until all six balls are placed in the holder at the top of the layout. The dealer determines the total correct balls and the individual numbers that are correct. Dealer takes losing bets and pays winning bets, according to the wagers below:
